

professional padi courses

printable version here

DIVEMASTER $ 599

Become a PADI Professional and earn a salary in the diving industry whilst travelling the world, or just take your hobby to a new level of interest and fun.

- Part-time Jobs: Many European dive schools and shops regularly employ Divemasters on a part-time basis. This would usually be during weekends and evenings.
- Full-time Jobs: There are thousands of dive schools in the most exotic of places and they are always in need of professional and well-trained Divemasters!

You'll be trained by both of our resident Master and IDCs Instructors (see below for special experience) and gain a wealth of experience & knowledge in assisting the Instructors with students in training, Dive guidance and dive theory.

7 to 10 day's full-time course

Excludes equipment rental, manuals and registration fee to PADI.

Requirements Rescue diver, updated EFR or equivalent, 20 logged dives, 60 at course completion, valid medical form, not older than 12 months and signed by a Physician. Have experience in night and deep diving (this can be done with diving and safaris)

ASSISTANT INSTRUCTOR $ 449

This is your next step towards becoming a PADI Open Water Scuba Instructor (OWSI).

- You'll be able to teach and qualify students in the Peak Performance Buoyancy and Project A.W.A.R.E. speciality courses
- You'll be qualified to teach the theory sections of the Open Water Scuba Diver course
- You'll become a valuable assistant to the Open Water Scuba Diving Instructor
- You'll become much more valuable within the dive industry!
- You can also gain your PADI Emergency First Response Instructor rating
- You'll be only one step away from becoming a PADI Open Water Scuba Diving Instructor and conducting PADI Courses yourself

4 day's full-time course

Excludes equipment rental, manuals and registration fee to PADI.

Requirements be a renewed PADI Dive Master, updated EFR or equivalent, 60 logged dives, valid medical form, not older than 12 months and signed by a Physician.

